The Helping Hands Food Pantry of Roseville exists to improve quality of life for Warren County residents by providing assistance to families in need and by developing programs to strengthen families and individuals.

Helping Hands of Roseville Celebrates 6 Years with an Open House

July 1, 2018 marked the completion of the sixth year of service to Warren County residents by the Helping Hands Food Pantry of Roseville. The milestone was celebrated with an Open House event which was attended by at least 30 individuals. Refreshments were served and tours of the pantry, storage area and walk-in cooler were given. While many were familiar with the facility, some were first-time visitors. It was a privilege for the Board Members to share the history, the mission and the vision of Helping Hands with those who attended.

RCC President Rudy Corman joins his wife Amy, HH board member, in celebrating the Pantry's milestone.

River Bend Pantry Review

Mark Reicherts of River Bend Food Bank is the Helping Hands' new Agency Relations representative. Any questions or concerns the pantry might have about service and operations, Mark is the one to contact. Mid-July he made his first facility evaluation, meeting with Food Committee Chairman Denise McIntyre to review Helping Hands procedures and policies and assess food presentation, storage, and etc. Helping Hands of Roseville received generous compliments from Mark concerning the organization and operation of such a wonderful community service. Those encouraging words will be inspiration to continue on with the efforts of serving Warren County's residents.
